A Call to Action

First New Mexico. Then Louisiana. Will Texas be Next?

John R. Bush, Executive Director

"Those who do not do politics will be done in by politics."— French proverb

Since the mid-1980's, a minority element of organized psychology have religiously worked to gain prescribing privileges through legislative means. In Brent Pollitt's article entitled "Fool's Gold: Psychologists Using Disingenuous Reasoning to Mislead Legislatures into Granting Psychologists Prescriptive Authority," published in the American Journal of Law and Medicine (Vol. 29 No. 4 2003), the author states:

"Psychologists seeking prescriptive authority appear blinded by their own self-interest associated with prescribing medication, willing to distort and totally disregard a multitude of opposing facts, placing patients at harm. Most disturbing about this debate is the unwillingness on the part of the psychologists seeking prescriptive authority to acknowledge a safety issue even exists."

The author concludes: "While the lack of available psychopharmaceutical treatment is a serious concern for all healthcare professionals, patient safety must remain paramount. Increased availability of harmful, substandard treatment is not the solution. The crux of the problem centers on what constitutes satisfactory education and training to grant prescriptive authority. Lowering this standard to allow psychologists to prescribe poses too great a risk to patient safety."

Despite opposition to psychologists prescribing privileges posed by psychiatry and other physicians, by psychologists including the Committee Against Medicalizing Psychology, and by patient and advocacy organizations including NAMI and the Depression and Bipolar Support Alliance, the New Mexico Legislature in March 2002 and Louisiana Legislature in May 2004 passed bills granting psychologists prescribing privileges. These legislative successes bear out Jesse Jackson's declaration: "In politics, an organized minority is a political majority."

The results achieved by psychologists in our neighboring states emboldens their resolve to achieve the same result in Texas. Will Texas be next? The past president of the Texas Psychological Association has stated that prescribing privileges for psychologists in Texas is inevitable.

The Texas Society of Psychiatric Physicians has twice convincingly defeated psychology's attempt to legislatively gain prescribing privileges in Texas...in 2001 and 2003. Organized psychology will again file their prescribing bill in the Texas Legislature in January 2005 and will vigorously pursue its passage.

The barrier to psychology's success in Texas in 2005 will be the same barrier that prevented their legislative efforts 2001 and 2003...the Texas Society of Psychiatric Physicians and its coalition partners from organized medicine, individual practicing psychologists and mental health advocacy organizations.

Psychologists' arguments for prescribing privileges given in New Mexico, Louisiana, Texas and numerous other states where similar bills have been filed, have included the following: 1) psychologists' education and clinical training better qualify them to diagnose and treat mental illness in comparison with primary care physicians; 2) the Department of Defense Psychopharmacology Demonstration Project (PDP) demonstrated non-physician psychologists can prescribe psychotropic medications safely; 3) the recommended post-doctoral training requirements adequately prepare psychologists to safely prescribe psychotropic medications; 4) this privilege will increase availability of mental health services, especially in rural areas; and 5) this privilege will result in an overall reduction in medical expenses, because patients will visit only one healthcare provider instead of two – one for psychotherapy and one for medication.

These are all examples justifying the title of Mr. Politt's article, "Fool's Gold: Psychologists Using Disingenuous Reasoning to Mislead Legislatures into Granting Psychologists Prescriptive Authority." Each of these points may be easily rebutted by facts, science, and medical experience.

If this is so, why did the legislators in New Mexico and Louisiana approve bills granting psychologists prescribing privileges? Facts, science and medical experience are only weapons used to rebut the reasons given by psychologists justifying prescribing privileges. But the battle ground is politics. Using facts, science and medical experience in the political arena, TSPP will once again lead an aggressive campaign to prevent legislation that will establish substandard levels of care for persons with psychiatric illnesses in our state.... "care" that endangers the safety and welfare of patients.

Every member of TSPP can offer numerous facts, scientific evidence and practical medical experience to discredit the ill-conceived initiative to allow psychologists to prescribe medications to patients. But, is every member of TSPP prepared to engage in the critical stage of the battle...the battle in the political arena?

To begin to answer this question, every TSPP member must accept the fact that the battle is already underway. The battle began in Texas in 2001 when psychologists first introduced their prescribing bill. If Texas psychiatrists and our coalition partners wait until January 2005 to enter the battle, when the psychologists make their third attempt to pass their bill, the chances for their success increases. We can not afford to wait. Every psychiatrist must begin today, and continue through the General Election in November, to proactively form relationships with their legislators.

Commenting on their legislative victory in New Mexico, a leader of their state psychology organization, Mario Marquez, PhD, said: "To me, the bottom line is we developed relationships with legislators. We educated them about psychology and we made friends with them in some cases."

The psychologists in New Mexico, and perhaps Louisiana, clearly understood the importance of engaging in battle in the political arena and forming relationships with their legislators. They followed the advice of Paul Lazarsfeld: "In politics, familiarity doesn't breed contempt. It breeds votes."

To launch our initiative in the political arena, TSPP will be forming Political Advocacy Committees in each Chapter in the next few weeks to help coordinate crucial grassroots political activities, recognizing the wisdom of former Speaker Tip O'Neill's adage: "All

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It Takes a Physician...

After returning from a recent vacation trip to Northwest Arkansas (beautiful scenery, a relaxing cabin on a mountain summit, wonderful restaurants in and near Eureka Springs), I began perusing my now-voluminous e-mail account. I ran across a most interesting entry on the APA listserve entitled, "Surgical Psychiatrist." This article was written by Christopher D. Bojrab, MD, of the Indiana Medical Group in Indianapolis. Dr. Bojrab has graciously given TSPP permission to reprint this work—it follows in its entirety. Please read on:

Following on the heels of Louisiana's decision to grant prescriptive authority to psychologists, Chris Bojrab, MD has started a grass roots movement that would permit psychiatrists to perform neurosurgical procedures. Citing increasing difficulties in accessing quality neurosurgical care, especially in rural areas which are underserved, Dr. Bojrab believes that properly trained psychiatrists could safely and effectively perform operations for the treatment of tumors, aneurysms, subdural bematomas, refractory seizure disorders and other conditions that have traditionally been treated by physicians who spend seven to nine years in specialized training after medical school. "Psychiatrists are practically neurosurgeons already" states Dr. Bojrab, "I mean, I did sit in on a couple of procedures while in medical school." Dr. Bojrab went on to say "You know, the right side of the brain controls the left side of the body, the left side of the brain controls the right side of the body....Jeez, how hard can it be? It's not like its brain surgery or something... er, well, OK it is exactly like brain surgery. But it is not rocket science, yeah, that's it... its not rocket science"When asked about what type of additional training would be necessary to adequately prepare a psychiatrist to function as a neurosurgeon Dr. Bojrab commented "Lets see, the California School of professional psychology offers a masters in psychopharmacology in 25.6 hours which meets the American Psychological Association's level III training standard. Louisiana apparently is of the opinion that such training would qualify a psychologist for the title "medical psychologist" allowing them to function as a psychiatrist who has spent approximately 26,000 hours of training during medical school and residency. By extrapolation, using this 1:1000 ratio, I am confident that a psychiatrist could be trained as a "surgical psychiatrist" in roughly 15 hours. I mean, come on now, at least we already went to medical school. Its not like we're starting from scratch.""This is about what is best for patients" commented Dr. Bojrab. "The fact that it would also throw some serious Benjamin's our way is really a side issue and never even entered our minds." Responding to critics who have called his plan "ill-conceive," "irrational," "financially motivated," or "self-serving," Dr. Bojrab replies "Those guys are just seeing this as a guild issue. They have to wake up to the reality that this is a new time in the practice of medicine. It's called legislation instead of education... ride the wave or be swept away by it!"Unfortunately, Dr. Bojrab was unavailable for additional comments when his plane (which was being flown by a flight attendant who thought it would be "way cool to fly jets" and received ber "piloting attendant" license at a weekend "resort course" during a layover in the Bahamas) went down somewhere over the eastern United States.

I was most impressed with Dr. Bojrab's tongue-in-cheek commentary on recent developments regarding the issue of prescribing privileges for psychologists. His humorous statements both parallel and accurately reflect the shallow and self-serving nature of the arguments presented by the leadership of the Texas Psychological Association and by the leadership of the American Psychological Association. The leaders of both of these organizations have included in their reasoning

J. CLAY SAWYER, MD President

many ill-advised statements as to why they should be granted prescribing privileges, including increasing their market share and increasing their income. They try to draw the specious argument that patients would have greater access to care (quality of care is never mentioned) in underserved areas while ignoring the fact that psychologists and psychiatrists practice in essentially the same geographic areas. The arrogant comtempt that these leaders appear to demonstrate for the safety of all patients and for the quality of care these patients rightfully expect boggles the mind. And yet...they have successfully used these arguments to convince lay legislators to enact such prescribing privileges in both New Mexico and in Louisiana. The new law in Louisiana apparently allows masterslevel therapists to become "medical psychologists," as well!

Evidence exists that these leaders do not represent the majority views of their memberships. Our membership, however, has clearly given TSPP the charge to prevent such arguments from ever gaining momentum in Texas law. To that end, I encourage one and all to attend the annual TSPP Leadership Conference this August — details appear elsewhere in this issue. Learn how to effectively articulate our message on behalf of our patients to our legislators so as to prevent non-physicians from practicing medicine without the rigorous training, and the license, to do so.

(If you have read this far, please e-mail TSPP at TSPPofc@aol.com so that your name may be entered in a drawing for a door prize at the Annual Meeting this November in San Antonio! You must be present to win.)

Let Dr. Bojrab's fine treatise serve both to remind us of the potential dangers ahead and to encourage us to refocus our efforts. Let's not allow "legislation instead of education" to become the path to any kind of medical practice. As leaders in the medical field, it is our responsibility, and our duty to our patients, to work to educate our own lay legislators so that such catastrophic developments never mar the landscape of Texas medicine.

Mental Illness Awareness Week - 2004

lanning should be underway in each TSPP Chapter for Mental Illness Awareness Week 2004, the first week in October. The purpose of MIAW is to increase the public's understanding of mental illnesses and psychiatric treatments. MIAW provides an annual opportunity to address three primary goals: 1) to encourage psychiatrists to collaborate with mental health advocacy organizations in the planning and implementation of MIAW activities; 2) to produce a variety of educational outreach programs to reach as broad an audience as possible; and 3) to involve community leaders, policymakers, educators, clergy, the media etc. in delivering positive and informative messages about psychiatric illnesses.

Again this year, the Texas Foundation for Psychiatric Education and Research will provide grants to TSPP Chapters to help underwrite the expenses of MIAW activities. Each Chapter President will receive information about funds available for each Chapter as well as grant application forms. To apply for these

MIAW grants, Chapter Presidents should submit the Chapter's grant request to the Foundation prior to August 1. A Foundation Grants Review Committee will evaluate grant requests and will forward funding recommendations to the Foundation's Executive Committee for final approval. An important consideration in determining funding amounts will be the level of participation by psychiatrists in MIAW activities. Funds will be distributed to Chapter Presidents by September 15. As a condition of accepting a grant from the Foundation, a Chapter receiving a grant is expected to submit a brief written report about its MIAW activities to the Foundation by November 1.

Mental Illness Awareness Week is an excellent opportunity to educate the public about mental illnesses and to foster working relations with patient advocacy groups in each community. TSPP and the Foundation encourages all Chapters to participate this year.

Politics is Local." The purpose of all political activities will be to encourage members to form relationships with their legislators – one on one. Activities may include meetings with legislators in their District Offices, inviting legislators and candidates to speak at Chapter meetings, volunteering to help in elections from putting up yard signs to distributing literature, and financially supporting candidates.

In addition to participation in these grassroots activities, there are other measures you can undertake to help and participate:

- 1. If you are interested in participating in TSPPs grassroots activities, please contact the TSPP Office.
- 2. If you already have a relationship with a legislator, please let the TSPP Office know.
- 3. If you know of psychologists in your community who oppose prescribing privileges, ask for their assistance and let TSPP know how to contact them.
- 4. If you are not already involved with our allies, the mental health advocacy organizations, please become involved and help inform them about the requirements needed to safely and effectively prescribe medications.

5. If you have not yet made plans to attend TSPPs Leadership Conference on August 7-8 in San Antonio at the Hyatt Regency Hill Country Resort, please do so today! With our Coalition partners, we will all benefit from the informative and inspiring program that will be presented by Joel Roberts.

Please become involved now in TSPPs political advocacy activities in preparation for the 2005 Texas Legislative Session, keeping in mind the old French proverb: "Those who do not do politics will be done in by politics." With your active participation in the political process, Texas will not succumb to accepting substandard and potentially harmful levels of medical care for the citizens of our State who seek treatment for psychiatric illnesses, as has been the case in two adjoining states.

CALL FOR ENTRIES

TEXAS SOCIETY OF PSYCHIATRIC PHYSICIANS

RESIDENT PAPER COMPETITION

Papers are now being accepted for the 2004 Residents' Paper Competition! Entries must be an original work produced by a resident member of TSPP while in residency training. The paper may be a piece of original research, literature review or discussion on a topic of interest to psychiatrists and should be 10-12 typewritten, double-spaced pages (excluding references). In the case of multiple author papers, the resident must be the one who has done the bulk of the research and writing. A statement to this effect must accompany the paper from the co-authors.

The winner will be announced in advance, and the paper presented at the November 13-14, 2004 TSPP Annual Convention and Scientific Program at the Omni Hotel in San Antonio, Texas. All papers entered in the competition will be recognized at the meeting. The winner will receive a certificate presented in recognition of the presentation, as well as a $250 honorarium and waiver of the scientific program registration fee and one night's hotel accommodation at the host hotel. Runners-up will be invited to present their papers as posters, the poster session to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 12-14 during the hours of the welcome reception and scientific program. Residents submitting papers will be notified of the judges' decision no later than September 30.

The 2004 Scientific Program, will address the following:

- Borderline Personality Disorders
- Bipolar Disorders
- Child & Adolescent Issues
- Obsessive Compulsive Disorder
- Psychiatric Aspects of Fibromyalgia

TSPP Action Paper Approved

On May 2, 2004, the APA Assembly approved an Action Paper submitted by TSPP requesting that APA study and consider changing the governance structure of the APA to allow for the Assembly to be the governing body of the organization instead of the Board of Trustees.

Action Paper

Subject: Review of APA Governance

Intent: Increase membership, decrease unnecessary expenses and have costs correlate with function.

Problem: The APA needs to attract and keep members and cut costs. APA membership across the country is not increasing on any sustained basis -despite increasing numbers of psychiatrists - and in most places, is declining. The most commonlycited reason for drops is financial. We cannot afford superfluous or unnecessary expenses.

The Assembly has no governance authority; this resides with the Board of Trustees. As an example, a recent legal opinion notes that, while the APA Bylaws state that District Branches shall be established, continued or dissociated according to the Procedural Code of the Assembly, the Board of Trustees may unilaterally create or dissociate a District Branch, thus even defining the membership of the Assembly. A review of the Action Papers presented at this Assembly (Spring 2004) meeting reveals that ten of the eighteen papers involve issues of governance, possible reflecting frustration among Assembly members that the only thing over which we perceive having authority is our own governance. We cannot afford $780,000 each year of our members' dues for meetings of a large body which is only advisory. Other medical organizations, e.g. The American Medical Association, have working models in which their Assembly-like bodies are the policy-making bodies for the

Alternatives:

- 1. Continue the status quo, expecting ever-increasing costs, increasing dues and declining membership.
- 2. Change the APA Bylaws to abolish the Assembly.
- 3. Change the APA Bylaws to make the Assembly the policy-making body.
- 4. Ask the Board of Trustees and the Assembly Executive Committee to
  - coordinate (or appoint a committee to coordinate) with liaisons to other professional organizations, a review of the
- b) investigate the effectiveness of a model with the Assembly as the policy-making body of the APA, and
- c) provide the Fall 2004 Assembly with a report.

A Profile of Psychiatry in Texas

According to data from the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners as of January 2004, 2,723 physicians were licensed to practice medicine who reported their specialty (primary or secondary) as psychiatry, child psychiatry or psychoanalysis. Of the total psychiatrists licensed by the Board, 2,109 practice in Texas (77.5%).

The distribution of Texas psychiatrists by primary specialty is: Psychiatry (85.1%), Child Psychiatry (10.5%), Psychoanalysis (1.3%), and Other (3.1%).

Distribution by Primary Specialty

Practice Information

Considering Practice Type, 80.9% of Texas psychiatrists provide Direct Patient Care, while 5.9% are in Medical Teaching, and 2.9% report their practice type as Administrative Medicine.

Practice Type

The Practice Setting for most psychiatrists is solo practice (50%), followed by hospital based (20.7%) and partnership/group (13.7%).

Practice Setting

Over 70% of psychiatrists report practice time over 40 hours per week:

Practice Time	Percent
40+ hours/wk	72.5%
20-39 hours/wk	16.0%
11-19 hours/week	5.1%
1-10 hours/wk	6.4%

Demographics

The allocation of Texas psychiatrists by gender is 65.7% male and 34.3% female.

The following is the distribution of Texas psychiatrists by ethnicity:

Ethnicity

Age of Texas Psychiatrists

Almost 60% of Texas psychiatrists are 50 years of age or older:

Place of Birth

Origins of psychiatrists practicing in Texas is diverse. Only 29.3% were born in Texas, while 45 other states and the District of Columbia have contributed 35.6% of psychiatrists. Psychiatrists born in 75 foreign countries constitute 27.7% of practicing psychiatrists in Texas.

Education

Location of Medical School

Almost 50% of Texas psychiatrists attended medical school in our state.

UTMB has provided most of the psychiatrists who attended medical school in Texas, followed by UT Southwestern, UT Houston and UT San Antonio.

Medical School	Number	Percent
Baylor	114	11.4%
Texas A&M	32	3.2%
Texas Tech	39	3.9%
U of North Texas	35	3.5%
UTMB	331	33.0%
UT Houston	144	14.4%
UT San Antonio	141	14.1%

Residential Rehabilitative Services for Children

he Texas Health and Human Services Commission has announced its intent to submit an amendment to the Texas State Plan for Medical Assistance, under Title XIX of the Social Security Act. This purpose of this amendment is to provide for residential rehabilitative behavioral health services for children. Residential Rehabilitative Behavioral Health Services are those services determined to be necessary for the treatment of a condition identified through an EPSDT screen and recommended by a licensed practitioner of the healing arts as medically necessary to reduce a child's disability resulting from serious emotional/behavioral disorders and to restore or maintain the child at his/her best possible functioning level in the community. These behavioral health services are provided in residential child care facilities licensed by the State of Texas and certified under requirements adopted by the single state agency.

The proposed amendment is to be effective June 1, 2004 and is expected to increase the amount of federal matching funds to the state. The proposed amendment is estimated to result in increased annual aggregate expenditures of $5,527,612 with increased federal matching funds of $3,350,962 for state fiscal year 2004, and $33,198,873 with increased federal matching funds of $20,208,154 for state fiscal year 2005.

To obtain copies of the proposed amendment, interested parties may contact Carolyn Pratt by mail at Rate Analysis Department, Texas Health and Human Services Commission, 1100 W. 49th Street, H-400, Austin, Texas 78756-3199 or by telephone at (512) 491-1359. Copies of the proposal will also be made available for public review at the local offices of the Texas Department of Human Services.

TSPPs Mental Illness Awareness Coalition Summer Leadership Conference

Association in Texas, NAMI Texas, Texas
Depression and Bipolar Support Alliance,
Texas Mental Health Consumers, Texas
Medical Association and the Texas Society of Psychiatric Physicians as we join forces once again to participate in a media training program conducted by Joel Roberts and plan for the 2005 Texas Legislative Session. On the morning of August 8, TSPP members will convene for a strategic planning meeting.

The conference will be conducted at the Hyatt Regency Hill Country Resort. Discover the warm, rough-hewn, casual traditions of a Texas ranch house just a stone's throw from downtown San Antonio. A rolling landscape welcomes you to this 200-acre wooded retreat inspired by the essence of the Texas Hill Country. For fun in the sun, there's a four-acre water park. Drift along a 950-foot Ramblin' River, or dive into one of two swimming pools separated by a cascading waterfall. Enjoy golf on an 18-hole Arthur Hills masterpiece, tennis of pampering in a spacious health club with sauna, massage and salon. You're just minutes from the Alamo, Six Flags Fiesta Texas and SeaWorld of Texas. Take in a rodeo or hop in the saddle at a local dude ranch. You'll find it all at Hyatt Regency Hill Country Resort. A great location for a conference and family weekend. Call the hotel (210/647-1234) by July 6 to make your reservations and take advantage of TSPPs discounted room rate of $179 single/double per night.

Joel Roberts is back by popular demand and will conduct his media training seminar, "Advocating with Impact from CNN to Capitol Hill." A former ABC radio talk show host in Los Angeles, Joel has provided media training to mental health advocates and psychiatrists throughout the country. He has provided training on two previous occasions to TSPP members, prompting evaluations such as: "This was by far the most valuable educational experience on patient advocacy and influencing public policy that I have had in all my training. I sincerely wish every psychiatrist in the state/country could have this experience;" "Focused my ability to present information concisely and hopefully effectively. Encouraged my involvement in media for public information on mental health issues;" and, "An important wake-up call coupled with empowering information. Excellent training and materials enhanced by Joel's humor and sensitivity to the different temperaments. Socratic method encouraged critical thinking. Interactive mode built camaraderie. Practical advice for dealing with the media, lay legislators, and public quite valuable. Well worth the time and expense to come."

Make your reservations today. Bring your family and plan to have an educational and fun experience.

Deputies Named to New Department of State Health Services

Health and Human Services Executive Commissioner Albert Hawkins recently announced the selection of Dr. Nick Curry as Deputy Commissioner for Public Health and Regulatory Programs and Dr. Dave Wanser as Deputy Commissioner of Behavioral and Community Health at the new Department of State Health Services.

Dr. Curry is currently Executive Deputy Commissioner for the Texas Department of Health (TDH). At TDH, Dr. Curry oversees programs ranging from licensing and certification to disease prevention and control, health disparities, bioterrorism and emergency preparedness plans, epidemiology, environmental health. He also oversees the TDH laboratory, which is one of the largest in the world.

Dr. Curry is board certified in public health, general preventive medicine and quality assurance. Before becoming Executive Deputy

Christian Psychiatrist.

Multi-specialty private practice in Florence, SC dedicated to providing the best of mental health care integrated with the truths of the Christian faith seeks strong generalist to do outpatient work in busy practice of three clinical psychologists and one counselor. Less than 10% managed care. This is a dream job for someone who wants to practice from a position of faith (as appropriate) and be very busy very quickly. Contact Dr. Avie Rainwater at 843/667-4949.

Commissioner at TDH in 2003, Dr. Curry was public health Region 1 director in Lubbock. He also has been chief of clinical services for the Houston Department of Health and Human Services and director of the Tarrant County and Fort Worth Health departments. He received his medical degree from Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Dr. Wanser has served as the Executive Director of the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse since 2001 and is chair of the statewide Drug Demand Reduction Advisory Committee. He also spent 14 years at the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, where he was director of the NorthSTAR Behavioral Health Program and director of behavioral health services. Wanser is first vice-president of the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Substance Abuse Directors. He received his Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Oklahoma.

The selection of Drs. Curry and Wanser complete the appointments to the two Deputy Commissioner positions at the Department of State Health Services. Both Deputies will report to the Commissioner of the Department, Eduardo Sanchez, MD, MPH.

House Bill 2292 from the 78th Texas
Legislature mandated a fundamental transformation of health and human services in Texas by consolidating 12 existing agencies into four departments under the oversight of HHSC. The Department of State Health Services consolidates functions from the Texas Department of Health, the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, and the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse. The Department of State Health Services will begin consolidated operations on September 1.

You have just been subpoenaed. Do you know how to respond?

If you have your malpractice insurance through The Psychiatrists' Program you can rest assured. With a simple toll-free call, a risk manager can assist you with the immediate steps you need to take to protect your practice.

As a Program participant, you can call the Risk Management Consultation Service (RMCS) to obtain advice and guidance on risk management issues encountered in psychiatric practice. Staffed by experienced professionals with both legal and clinical backgrounds, the RMCS can help prevent potential professional liability incidents and lawsuits.

If you are not currently insured with The Program, we invite you to learn more about the many psychiatric-specific benefits of participation. Call today to receive more information and a complimentary copy of "Six Things You Can Do Now to Avoid Being Successfully Sued Later"
