please join the Texas Society of Child and Adolescent Psychiatrists at Moody Gardens in Galveston July 8th -10th. We last met in Galveston when Nakia Scott, MD was TSCAP president in 2018, and we once again have the opportunity to see each other in person after over two years! I am so excited to get to see you all in person and I hope you are looking forward to reconnecting with colleagues you may have not seen in some time.

The program is “Road to Recovery: Treatment and Prevention of Trauma in Children and Adolescents.” We will have the opportunity to learn and discuss the topic from a bio-psycho-social-spiritual perspective with our speakers and discussants, Amy Garrett, PhD will start the program with identifying brain networks associated with traumatic stress and the changes seen after treatment. Rene Olivera, MD MPH will follow with the effects of Adverse Childhood Experiences on developing brains. Jennifer Hughes, PhD, MPH will identify risk factors and explore how to incorporate evidence-based assessment of suicide in youth. Drs. Busby, Dodd, Kirk, and Gushanas will be discussants in a panel about working with traumatized youth and Ursula Kelley, MD will explore the neurobiology as well as the implications of understanding attachment. The following day, Drs. Gushanas and Kirk will look at traumatic bereavement including evaluation and intervention. The program will conclude with our Ethics discussion about the Texas Child Mental Health Consortium with Luanne Southern, MSW, Laurel Williams, MD and Sarah Wakefield MD. Change is perpetually upon us, and hopefully, we can influence that change toward progress. I am excited to learn from our wonderful group of speakers! I am grateful to the executive committee, our Chief Strategy Officer Debbie Giaratano, and administrative assistant MJ Miller for helping bring this program together. I am also thankful for our membership’s willingness to lead in addressing everything going on in the world, including the ongoing COVID pandemic and the Youth Mental Health Crisis, the effect on access to mental health care related to the politicization of gender-affirming care, and the trauma of mass violence events like that in Uvalde.

The foresight our organization has had continues to put us in a position to meet our objectives in our daily practice of medicine, supporting the work of the Texas Child Mental Health Care Consortium and advocating at the legislature with the wisdom of Eric Wooomer and Courtney Williamson.

Thank you for allowing me to serve over this last year as TSCAP President and I look forward to continuing to support Dr. Debra Atkinson as TSCAP President over this next year! Please join us in Galveston with the registration information below.

Texas Psychiatrist
The Foundation continues! Hello. This is my first letter as Chairman of the Texas Foundation for Psychiatric Education and Research. This has been an exciting year as the nation continues to recover from the lockdown of COVID and we begin to have in-person meetings again. I look forward to seeing friends and colleagues in our upcoming Federation meetings.

Our Foundation plays a major role in supporting our activities in organized psychiatry. We support education on all levels of the public—through support of our chapters during Mental Illness Awareness Week; of legislators—very important to educate our lawmakers so they may make sound policies that allow us to help our patients; of physicians—through support of our annual meetings, especially the annual meeting in November. With the help of the Foundation, TSSP, TSCAP, and TAP are able to offer quality CME that help us provide the best care for our patients. No contribution is too small, or too big! Steady giving over time from our members has allowed the Foundation to grow and provide support for these activities.

Also, over the years the Foundation has been able to support special conferences (e.g., one on insanity defense several years ago) as well as various research projects. As the Foundation grows, we will be able to provide more support.

Finally, I wish to acknowledge all the work of my predecessor, Clay Sawyer MD, in his support of the Foundation these past many years—Clay has been my mentor since I was a medical student. I will try hard to follow his fine example! And, of course I acknowledge the contributions of John Bush, Debbie Giarratano and staff through the years of keeping our Federation activities going.

On March 5th, 2022, the Texas Academy of Psychiatry hosted our first official CME program, in conjunction with the American Professional Agency. This 5-hour program included discussions in four major areas of professional risk; these included documentation, treating high-risk patients, telepsychiatry and risks associated with outpatient treatment. All of the presentations were excellent and to the point and the question/answer periods allowed interesting discussion, as well. We had a good participation for our first CME offering. I would also like to take this as an opportunity to thank all of the outstanding speakers we heard on the program and to thank all of the participants who joined us for the Academy’s CME webinar. I believe the topics were appreciated by everyone. I also want to express appreciation to Ms. M.J. Miller of the Federation of Texas Psychiatry, Administrative Assistant, and to Debbie Giartano, the Federation Chief Strategist, for all of their efforts in making this, our first program, a big success. This program represents an opportunity to offer a variety of topics, perhaps not readily available through other CME sources, is also a good reason to be a member of the Texas Academy of Psychiatry. TSPP members and members of the Texas Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Society, receive a substantial discount when joining the Academy.}
